

Princeton Charter School Media and Publicity Consent Form

2020-2021

Princeton Charter School uses photos of students on the school website, on the school Facebook page, and on printed school materials to communicate to the larger Princeton community what the ethos of PCS truly is and to recognize and celebrate student achievements within our own community. Students are never identified by name on the website, the Facebook page or on printed school materials.

On occasion, we will submit student photos to local newspapers for publicity purposes and to celebrate student achievement as well. Students are sometimes identified (by name only) on photographs submitted to local newspapers.
